

We need your feedback!

We want to know what you think of this CD-ROM; what parts of it you find most useful, what parts least useful, what might be added; how the presentation might be improved. Any information on errors/omissions found in the CD-ROM will be gratefully accepted.

This CD-ROM is not intended to be a static document. Sharing your experiences in the repair/replacement of concrete lined channels, the successes and failures of methods employed, will foster greater understanding in the topic and enable us to learn from each other.
